

Bikini Atoll

April 28 - May 11, 2022

Blue Green Expeditions is traveling to Bikini Atoll aboard the Truk Master and Becky Kagan Schott will be the Expedition Leader for this amazing trip! Bikini was the site of a pair of nuclear weapon tests by the US government in 1946. Ninety five ships including obsolete battleships, aircraft carriers, submarines, numerous auxiliary ships and three surrendered German and Japanese warships were purposely bombed in the calm clear waters of Bikini atoll. It is now the greatest underwater warship wreck museum in the world. Diving the nuclear fleet is limited to technical divers as depths average about 150 feet. All divers must have appropriate experience for dives up to 240 feet. All dive experience will be verified. The Truk Master and ships crew are very experienced in technical diving and can handle any gas mix including helium mixes. This trip has limited space and will sell out quickly!
