Selinda Explorers Camp is located in the private 130,000-hectare Selinda Reserve of northern Botswana on the banks of the seasonal waterway, the Selinda Spillway. This classic camp transports guests back to the time of authentic safaris, but with a modern twist and hospitality. The camp's focal point is the Bedouin-style main area consisting of an open-air lounge and dining tent. Set under the shade of the Riverine Forest, the camp is designed in the style of the early explorers with an atmosphere of bush elegance and a relaxed style, complemented by attentive staff, private professional service, and fabulous food.

Selinda Explorers Camp's three standard tented accommodations draw on the traditions of the classic East African safari with explorer's trunks, campaign-style furniture made from recycled hard woods, and soft furnishings from Zanzibar and the East. Each tent offers guests a well-appointed bedroom, covered veranda, and private bathroom complete with hot water showers and a flush loo. All the guest tents are at ground level, on slightly raised platforms. This is an unassuming camp, light on its footprint but heavy on style and a spirit of adventure.

Duba Explorers Camp is tucked away in the northeast corner of the Duba Plains concession, a 33,000-hectare private reserve in the Okavango Delta. Due to its location at the Okavango Delta's northern reaches, the surroundings are dominated by permanent and seasonal floodplains, grasslands, and pockets of mopane and acacia woodlands. The camp, which has its own private traversing area within the concession, is set under a canopy of mature jackalberry, leadwood, mangosteen, and sycamore-fig trees.
